May 30, 2025

10am - 2pm (CDT)

Join the Gogebic and Dickinson Conservation Districts to learn about foraging for goods from our local forests. This event welcomes everyone from first time foragers to long time gatherers. We will start with a presentation to get acquainted with how to be a successful forager, some common items that are foraged, and some of their uses. Following the presentation, we will hit the trails to see what we can find!

The event is free and open to the general public. We request that you register ahead of time.

To register scan the QR code or visit www.gogebiccd.org or call 906-663-4512 to register.
